KOLONNE

Finally someone who takes this seriously and doesn't just make alcohol-free wine from leftovers in order to sell the withdrawn alcohol.

At Kolonne Null it's exactly the opposite: here the alcohol is a secondary matter. The producers don't just take it out, they select really good grapes with the winegrowers and experiment so that the result is right. De-alcoholization then takes place in the laboratory in Berlin using vacuum distillation.

The wine is then heated to just 28 degrees!

Of course, dealcoholized means: no alcohol, which you can taste, but what you then perceive can also be really exciting - like with Kolonne Null!

DOMAINE
bonnet du fou

In the middle of the wine village of Twann, two friends cultivate the Chasselas, Pinot Gris, Chardonnay and Pinot Noir varieties on two hectares of land.

Manu and Roman are fully committed to terroir and single vineyard sites! Their wines should be a reflection of the soil and the microclimate. They aim for the highest quality and, thanks to controlled harvest restrictions and 100% manual labor, the result is honest, long-lasting and complex wines. They do not use herbicides at all and are in the process of converting to organic production. For them, working close to nature is essential: they are convinced that this is the only way to combine the highest quality and sustainability. They also completely avoid the use of fining agents in the cellar. They do not want to make wines, but rather accompany the wine on its journey and, where necessary, support it with the smallest possible interventions.

Their love of experimentation is just as great as their penchant for perfection.

The Gregor Kuonen Caveau de Salquenen winery was founded in 1979. With a great deal of passion and the highest quality standards, the winery has established itself as a top address in the Swiss wine industry over the last four decades.

The love for its vines is the basis for these top wines. The south-facing slopes around Salgesch provide the winery with ideal soil conditions and over 300 days of sunshine a year. The grapes harvested are vinified with passion, many years of experience and a great deal of patience to produce over 60 exquisite wines.

With the creation of the limited edition "3454 - Reine des Glaces" Humagne Blanche Barrique, they have once again demonstrated their ability to produce unique, world-class wines.

This exclusive product is stored in the Jungfrauoch ice palace, at over 3454 meters above sea level. This provides constant temperatures around freezing point and a natural humidity of around 90%, which are ideal maturing conditions for this top wine. The storage in the finest oak barrels enables the Humagne Blanche to be ideally exchanged with the pure Alpine air.

The Antinori family has been dedicated to wine production for over six hundred years: since 1385, when Giovanni di Piero Antinori joined the Florentine guild of winemakers and wine merchants. Throughout its long history spanning 26 generations, the family has always managed the business directly, making innovative and often bold decisions without ever losing sight of tradition and the region.

Today the company is managed by Marchese Piero Antinori, assisted by three daughters, Albiera, Allegra and Alessia, who are responsible for specific areas of the business. Tradition, passion and intuition have made Antinori one of the leading Italian producers of quality wines. The company is one of the founding members of the Associazione Marchi Storici d'Italia, an organisation for the protection, support and promotion of Italy's historic brands.

SWITZERLAND

Caves du Château Auvernier is a Swiss winery that cultivates about 40 hectares of grapevines and produce over 10 wine types. The Auvernier Castle, that gives home to this iconic winery, was built in 1559 for Blaise Junod, governor of the lordship of Valangin.

It was in 1603 that the castle and the estate was sold to Pierre Chambrier, who had become a state councilor, lieutenant of the governor and receiver general of finances of the Pays de Neuchâtel. Since then, after fourteen generations, the the Château d'Auvernier is still in the possession of the direct descendants of Pierre Chambrier, producing the finest of vines.

Numerous awards confirm that it is in the spirit of Caves du Château Auvernier to ensure that tradition and excellent wine stays the soul and the reason of the Castle.

Fattoria Le Mortelle is located in the heart of Maremma Toscana, a few kilometers from Castiglione della Pescaia, in an exceptional and fascinating position for its nature and for the history of the surrounding villages.

Since 1999, the Antinori family has been working in the vineyard and in the new winery, convinced that this area has a great vocation for producing quality wines and that the particularities of the terroir and the cultivated grape varieties can be particularly well developed here. The Fattoria covers 270 hectares of land, 170 of which are vineyards.

REMELLURI

In the heart of Rioja, where the Sierra del Tolono and Ebro Mountain ranges rise majestically, lies the unique Rioja Sonsierra wine region. In the westernmost part of the region, in the middle of picturesque villages, the grapes from which the exceptional wines of Lindes de Remelluri are made grow on old vineyards on mountainous slopes.

Lindes de Remelluri is a community project to reflect on the roots of winegrowing in Rioja and the key role of family businesses that have preserved this tradition for generations. The wines from Lindes de Remelluri are a pleasure for all the senses. They tell stories of the country and its people, of tradition and passion. They are an expression of a unique terroir and the deep connection between the winemaking families and their homeland.
